

EUROPEAN HEBREW JOURNAL (EHJ)

Volume 2, Issue 1 - Call for Papers 2026

International peer-reviewed open access journal published by the Institute for Hebrew Language and Literature, Belgrade, Serbia.

Submission deadline:
30 September 2026

Official journal website:
<https://ehj.hebrew.edu.rs/index.php/european-hebrew-journal>

Editorial Office:
office@hebrew.edu.rs

Researchers from all countries are invited to submit original scholarly manuscripts for Volume 2, Issue 1 of EHJ. The journal welcomes contributions from university faculty, researchers, independent scholars, and doctoral candidates working across Hebrew studies, Jewish studies, Semitic linguistics, philology, theology, manuscript traditions, and related humanities fields.

Open Access Immediate free access to published content.	No Fees No APCs and no submission fees.	Peer Review Anonymous double-blind peer review.	Visibility International scope, OJS platform, metadata, DOI policy.
--	--	--	--

About the Journal

The European Hebrew Journal (EHJ) is conceived as an international scholarly forum devoted to rigorous interdisciplinary research in Hebrew studies, Jewish studies, philology, manuscript traditions, Semitic linguistics, theology, and related humanities disciplines. Volume 2, Issue 1 is intended to establish a broad academic platform for original research, review essays, methodological studies, philological notes, manuscript studies, annotated translations, and other scholarly contributions relevant to the journal scope.

Why Submit to EHJ?

- No Article Processing Charges (APCs).
- No submission fees, review fees, publication fees, or processing fees.
- Double-blind peer review for manuscripts selected for external evaluation.
- Open access dissemination without subscription barriers or paywalls.
- International editorial board covering Hebrew, Jewish studies, Biblical studies, philology, linguistics, archaeology, theology, history, and related fields.
- OJS-based submission and editorial workflow.
- Researchers from all countries and institutions are invited to submit manuscripts.

Detailed Scope

Hebrew Language and Linguistics

Ancient, Biblical, Medieval, Rabbinic, and Modern Hebrew; Hebrew linguistics; morphology; syntax; semantics; lexicography; historical Hebrew linguistics; Masoretic tradition; comparative grammar.

Semitic and Jewish Languages

Semitic linguistics and comparative language studies; Aramaic; Judeo-Arabic; Ladino; Yiddish; Jewish languages and contact traditions; comparative philology.

Biblical and Textual Studies

Biblical studies; Old Testament / Hebrew Bible studies; textual criticism; translation studies; reception history; biblical philology; annotated translations; critical editions.

Manuscripts, Qumran, and Material Texts

Dead Sea Scrolls and Qumran research; manuscript traditions; paleography; codicology; scribal practice; orthography; transmission history.

Religion, Theology, and Intellectual History

Theology in Judaism, Christianity, and Islam; philosophy; philosophy of religion; religious studies; intellectual history; sociology of religion and society; anthropology and intercultural studies.

History, Culture, Archaeology, and Literature

Jewish history and cultural studies; archaeology connected with Biblical and Near Eastern contexts; Jewish / Israeli literature; literary studies; onomastics and historical naming traditions; interdisciplinary research connecting language, manuscripts, culture, and history.

Editorial and Publication Framework

Area	Summary
Peer Review Process	EHJ applies an anonymous double-blind peer review model. Submissions first undergo editorial screening for scope, originality, academic character, methodological adequacy, structure, language, and compliance with submission requirements. Manuscripts considered suitable proceed to independent expert review, normally with at least two reviewers where possible.
Open Access Policy	EHJ provides immediate and free access to published content. The journal does not apply embargo periods and aims to support global scholarly exchange by making research freely available to readers.
Author and Reader Rights	Authors retain significant rights and are encouraged to share published versions through repositories, academic platforms, institutional websites, and personal scholarly pages, with proper acknowledgment of the original EHJ publication.
Copyright and Licensing	Authors retain copyright ownership of their work. EHJ supports open scholarly communication and intends published content to be distributed under open licensing conditions, including CC BY 4.0 where applicable.
DOI Policy	EHJ intends to assign Digital Object Identifiers to published scholarly content in order to support citation stability, long-term accessibility, discoverability, and interoperability across academic metadata systems.
Archiving and Discoverability	EHJ supports long-term accessibility through digital archiving practices, repository integration where available, persistent identifiers, indexing initiatives, and metadata preservation.

Policy pages: Open Access Policy; DOI Policy; Copyright and Licensing Policy; Peer Review Process; Publication Policies. These are available on the EHJ website.

Submission Workflow

1. Submission	2. Editorial screening	3. Double-blind review	4. Revision / decision	5. Publication
----------------------	-------------------------------	-------------------------------	-------------------------------	-----------------------

International Editorial Board

The following board listing is organized by institutional affiliation and scholarly area. It is included to show the journal's interdisciplinary academic profile and the breadth of fields represented in Volume 2, Issue 1.

University of Cambridge, United Kingdom	Prof. Dr. Aaron Koller Regius Professor of Hebrew, Faculty of Asian and Middle Eastern Studies	Biblical Hebrew; Semitic languages and linguistics; ancient Hebrew philology; Jewish Aramaic; Hebrew Bible.
	Prof. Dr. Aaron D. Hornkohl University Associate Professor in Hebrew, Faculty of Asian and Middle Eastern Studies	Biblical Hebrew; historical Hebrew linguistics; Hebrew philology; grammar; textual criticism; Dead Sea Scrolls Hebrew; Semitic linguistics; Masoretic tradition.
University of Hamburg, Germany	Prof. Dr. Giuseppe Veltri Chair for Jewish Philosophy and Religion; Director, Maimonides Centre for Advanced Studies	Jewish philosophy; Jewish intellectual history; medieval and early modern Jewish thought.
Hebrew University of Jerusalem, Israel	Prof. Dr. Emanuel Tov, Emeritus J. L. Magnes Professor of Bible, Emeritus, Department of Bible	Textual criticism of the Hebrew Bible; Dead Sea Scrolls; Septuagint; biblical philology; Hebrew manuscript traditions.
	Prof. Dr. Rivka Halevy Department of Hebrew Language	Modern Hebrew syntax, semantics, and pragmatics.
	Prof. Dr. Menahem Kister, Emeritus Professor Emeritus, Department of Comparative Religion / Department of Jewish Thought	Dead Sea Scrolls; Second Temple Judaism; rabbinic literature; biblical exegesis; Jewish and Christian textual traditions.
	Prof. Dr. Yaron Ben-Naeh Bernard Cherrick Chair in the History of the Jewish People, Department of Jewish History and Contemporary Jewry	Ottoman Jewish history; Sephardic and Mizrahi studies; Jewish history; social and cultural history; Ottoman Palestine.
	Prof. Dr. Amihai Mazar, Emeritus Professor Emeritus, Institute of Archaeology	Biblical archaeology; ancient Israel and the Levant; Bronze and Iron Age archaeology; history of ancient Israel; material culture; Jerusalem.
Grace Christian University, USA	Prof. Dr. Phillip J. Long Professor of Bible and Ministry	Biblical studies; New Testament; Second Temple contexts.
New York University (NYU), USA	Prof. Dr. Yael S. Feldman, Emerita Abraham I. Katsh Professor of Hebrew Culture and Education; Professor of Comparative Literature and Gender Studies	Modern Hebrew literature; Hebrew culture; comparative literature; Jewish intellectual history; cultural memory; gender studies.
	Prof. Dr. Hasia R. Diner, Emerita Professor Emerita, Departments of History and Hebrew and Judaic Studies; Director, Goldstein-Goren Center for American Jewish History	American Jewish history; Holocaust and memory studies; Jewish diaspora studies; Jewish cultural history.
Yale University, USA	Prof. Dr. Jay Winter, Emeritus Charles J. Stille Professor of History Emeritus, Department of History	Historical memory; comparative memory studies; modern European history; war and society.
	Prof. Dr. Hannan Hever Jacob and Hilda Blaustein Professor of Hebrew Language and Literature; Program in Judaic Studies and Department of Comparative Literature	Hebrew literature; comparative literature; Jewish studies; Hebrew intellectual history; Israeli literature; minority discourse; literary theory.

Institution	Editorial Board Member	Profile and Expertise
Goethe University Frankfurt, Germany	Prof. Dr. Marcel Erdal, Emeritus Professor Emeritus of Turkic Studies	Old Turkic studies; historical linguistics; Turkic philology; comparative linguistics; epigraphy; historical grammar; Khazarology.
Aga Khan University, United Kingdom	Prof. Dr. Philip Wood Tejpar Professor of Inter-Religious Studies, Institute for the Study of Muslim Civilisations	Inter-religious studies; early Islamic history; Syriac Christianity; Abbasid studies; Late Antiquity.
Brandeis University, USA	Prof. Dr. Antony Polonsky, Emeritus Professor Emeritus of Holocaust Studies	Holocaust studies; East European Jewish history; modern Jewish history; Jewish cultural history.
University of Massachusetts Amherst, USA	Prof. Dr. Shmuel Bolozky, Emeritus Professor Emeritus, Department of Judaic and Near Eastern Studies	Modern Hebrew; Hebrew linguistics; Hebrew grammar; Semitic linguistics; Hebrew morphology.
Bar-Ilan University, Israel	Prof. Dr. Eyal Regev Full Professor, The Martin (Szusz) Department of Land of Israel Studies and Archaeology	Second Temple Judaism; Dead Sea Scrolls; early Christianity; Jewish history; Hasmonean and Herodian studies; ritual purity; social archaeology.
	Prof. Dr. Aren M. Maeir Professor of Archaeology, The Martin (Szusz) Department of Land of Israel Studies and Archaeology	Biblical archaeology; ancient Near Eastern archaeology; Philistine studies; ancient Israel; Bronze and Iron Age Levant; Near Eastern civilizations.
	Prof. Dr. Yigal Levin Associate Professor, Israel and Golda Koschitzky Department of Jewish History; Head, Multidisciplinary Department of Jewish Studies	History of biblical Israel; historical geography; ancient Israelite archaeology; biblical historiography; Persian Period Yehud; Hebrew Bible historical contexts.
Catholic University of Argentina, Argentina	Prof. Dr. Juan Manuel Tebes Professor, Center of Studies of Ancient Near Eastern History	Ancient Near Eastern history; Hebrew Bible / Old Testament context; biblical archaeology; Iron Age southern Levant; ancient Israel; Yahwism; Edom, Negev, and northwestern Arabia.
Sapienza University of Rome, Italy	Prof. Dr. Giuseppe Motta Associate Professor in History of International Relations	Jewish history; national minorities and ethnic relations; Holocaust and antisemitism studies; Jewish diaspora studies.
University of Aberdeen, United Kingdom	Dr. Nathaniel E. Greene Lecturer in Hebrew Bible, School of Divinity, History, Philosophy and Art History	Hebrew Bible / Old Testament; Northwest Semitic languages; Biblical Hebrew; epigraphy; paleography; ancient Israel; scribal culture; Deuteronomistic History.
Emory University, USA	Prof. Dr. Oded Borowski, Emeritus Professor Emeritus of Biblical Archaeology and Hebrew, Department of Middle Eastern and South Asian Studies	Biblical archaeology; ancient Israel and Judah; Iron Age; daily life and material culture; household archaeology; agriculture and economy; excavation methodology; historical geography.
Lucian Blaga University of Sibiu, Romania	Prof. Dr. Constantin Horia Oancea Associate Professor of Old Testament, Faculty of Orthodox Theology Saint Andrei Saguna	Old Testament / Hebrew Bible; exegesis; prophetic literature; Septuagint and reception history; Orthodox Old Testament theology; hermeneutics; patristic interpretation.

Submission Information

Submission deadline	30 September 2026
Official journal website	https://ehj.hebrew.edu.rs/index.php/european-hebrew-journal
News and announcements	https://ehj.hebrew.edu.rs/index.php/european-hebrew-journal/news
Editorial Office	office@hebrew.edu.rs

EHJ would greatly appreciate the circulation of this announcement among colleagues, university departments, research institutes, scholarly associations, and academic communities interested in Hebrew studies, Jewish studies, Semitic linguistics, theology, philology, manuscript traditions, and interdisciplinary humanities research.

Scan the QR code
to open EHJ news and announcements, where the Call for Papers and submission information can be accessed online.

VOLUME 2, ISSUE 1

CALL FOR PAPERS

Testimonia 4Q175, Qumran

European Hebrew Journal (EHJ)

invites original scholarly submissions for Volume 2, Issue 1.

Scope

The journal welcomes contributions in
Biblical Hebrew, Ancient and Modern Hebrew,
Semitic linguistics, Jewish studies, Jewish history,
Biblical studies, Old Testament studies,
theology, Sociology and philosophy of religion,
philology, manuscript studies, textual criticism,
Dead Sea Scrolls research, and related interdisciplinary fields.

Peer Review

All submissions undergo rigorous double-blind peer review.

Open Access

No Article Processing Charges (APCs)

Global Participation

Researchers worldwide are invited to submit manuscripts.

DEADLINE:

30.09.2026

EDITORIAL OFFICE:

office@hebrew.edu.rs

INSTITUTE FOR
HEBREW LANGUAGE
AND LITERATURE

Promoting Hebrew Scholarship.
Connecting Traditions. Advancing Knowledge.